PROFILE

I am a digital designer currently in my third year. My work is a mix of experimentation and curiosity as I enjoy trying out different forms of media from photography to 3D and illustration. I am still growing as a designer and that is what I enjoy most because I get to explore and learn new things. A lot of my inspiration comes from anime especially the storytelling and attention to detail which I try to bring into my own projects. I would also say my work reflects my witty and funny side because I like when design feels personal and playful.

EXPERIENCE

- Illustration and visual storytelling, including character design and comic-style narratives
- 3D modelling and basic animation using Blender
- Graphic design and digital imaging with Adobe Photoshop
- Development of marketing campaigns and digital advertisements
- Motion design and simple animation for multimedia projects
- Creative direction across visual and conceptual projects
- Photography and videography for creative and promotional content
- Video editing for short-form and long-form content
- Strong conceptualization and visual problem-solving abilities
- Collaborative project work, teamwork, and contribution to group assignments
- Ability to interpret briefs and translate them into practical design outcomes
